Artist Statement

Iceland is a place that stays with you. Hot springs, breathtaking waterfalls, northern lights, whales and dramatic landscape. It's a natural wonderland filled with endless beauty and a sense of magic.

Among these wonders are the Icelandic horses.

I was drawn to their incredible hairstyles — from long, flowing fringes covering their eyes to wild, windswept manes. To me, these horses have an unmistakable rock-star appearance, each with its own unique character, style and attitude.

It was this individuality that inspired my collection.

I also wanted to capture more than just the horses, incorporating elements of Iceland's extraordinary landscapes, dramatic light and natural beauty to bring together the rock-star spirit of the horses and the magic of Iceland.

The exhibition takes its name from one of the Icelandic horse's most remarkable qualities — Tölt.

While most horses are known for three basic gaits — walk, trot and canter — Icelandic horses can have four or even five, including their signature gait, Tölt. A gait is the rhythmic pattern of how a horse moves.

Tölt is a natural four-beat gait that creates an exceptionally smooth and comfortable ride, with movement that seems almost effortless.

For me, TÖLT is a celebration of everything that makes these horses extraordinary — their wild beauty, rock-star personalities and the magic of the Icelandic landscape they call home.
